

Stone

MULTISEAL uses techniques developed through years of research and experience to safely and effectively restore the beauty of natural stone.

Soil will find its way deep into the pores of the stone. This may be a result of not sealing the stone immediately after installation, or can be caused by improper cleaning methods. Knowledge of the correct cleaning material and method is critical. An uninformed choice here could destroy or permanently damage the stone or at the very least result in a poor job. No shortcuts will be taken, we will utilize the safest and most effective materials and methods to restore the stone and grout. If the stone requires sealing or resealing we will then apply the appropriate sealer.
